

THE CORDELL INSTITUTE OF WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY IN ST. LOUIS
presents:

Cordell 4: The Future of Consent for Privacy and Health

Friday, April 23, 2021 1:00-4:00 p.m. CST via Zoom

1:00-1:15 pm: Welcome, Introduction, Roadmap for the Afternoon

1:15-2:00 pm: Challenges of Current Consent Models- A Panel Discussion

- Danielle Citron, Jefferson Scholars Foundation Schenck Distinguished Professor in Law at the University of Virginia School of Law
- Woodrow Hartzog, Professor of Law and Computer Science, Northeastern University (moderator)
- Meg Jones, Associate Professor, Communication, Culture & Technology Department, Georgetown University
- Nancy Kim, ProFlowers Distinguished Professor of Internet Studies and Professor of Law at California Western School of Law

2:00-2:10 pm: Break and transition to next panel

2:10-2:55 pm: Alternatives to Current Consent Models- A Panel Discussion

- Jasmine McNealy, Associate Professor, Department of Telecommunications, University of Florida College of Journalism and Communications (moderator)
- Neil Richards, Koch Distinguished Professor in Law, Washington University in St. Louis School of Law
- Lauren Scholz, McConaughay and Rissman Professor, Florida State University College of Law
- Ari Ezra Waldman, Professor of Law and Computer Science, Northeastern University

2:55-3:05 pm: Break and transition to next panel

3:05-3:50 pm: The Future of Consent with a Focus on Healthcare- A Panel Discussion

- Patty Hastings, Assistant Vice Chancellor & Associate General Counsel, Washington University in St. Louis School of Medicine
- Jiyeon Kim, Research Fellow, Cordell Institute (moderator)
- Kirk Nahra, Partner and Co-Chair of Cybersecurity and Privacy Practice, WilmerHale
- Charlotte Tschider, Assistant Professor, Loyola University Chicago School of Law

3:50-4:00 pm: Wrap-up